2016 Ramadhan Program

UP Institute of Islamic Studies (UPII)
3:30-7:30 p.m.

The celebration of the holy month of Ramadhan is an annual program of the IIS that commenced in 2014. Every day from dawn to dusk during the month, more or less 1.6 billion Muslims around the world spend complete fast abstaining from food, drink and sex. Other malevolent acts are also prohibited during this month in order to avoid the inadvertent nullification of fasting.

The 9th month of the hijra calendar (lunar calendar) is regarded by Muslim scholars as a time to purify the soul from vices, promote self-discipline and fortify God-consciousness. During the month, the IIS offers free foods (Iftar) for fasting Muslims and other guests, conducts series of lectures and celebrates the culmination of Ramadhan (Eid Al-Fitr).

For more information, please call Erika Elaine F. Muñiz at 929-8286.
