Ties of History: Art in Southeast Asia

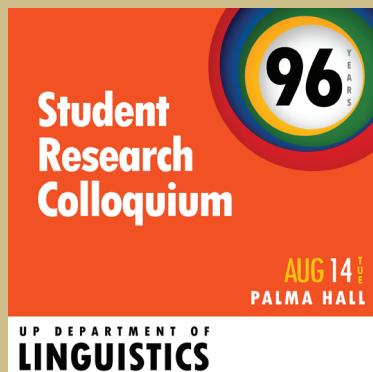

Vargas Museum (UP Diliman), Metropolitan Museum of Manila and Yuchengco Museum (Makati City)
5-9 p.m. (Opening Reception)

The Philippines organizes an exhibition of contemporary art in Southeast Asia in Manila to mark the 50th year of the Association of Southeast Asian Nations (ASEAN). The exhibit gathers 10 artists to represent the member-states of the organization. Taken from the ASEAN Declaration in 1967, the phrase “ties of history” may allude to the blessings and burdens of being together and being different in a region that is thought to be shared.

The exhibition opens on Aug. 8 (Metropolitan Museum of Manila), Aug. 9 (Yuchengco Museum) and Aug. 10 (Vargas Museum) and will run until Oct. 6. The project is presented by the National Commission for Culture and the Arts through the Dalubhasaan Para sa Edukasyon sa Sining at Kultura with the support of the Office of Senator Loren Legarda.

For more information, please call the Vargas Museum at 981-8500 loc. 4024; 928-1925 or send an email to vargasmuseum@gmail.com. You may also check their website at <http://vargasmuseum.upd.edu.ph>, Facebook via <https://fb.me/vargasmuseum.upd> and Twitter via @UPVargasMuseum for updates.

"Talastasan sa Kasaysayan: Ang Pampublikong Kasaysayan at Kamalayang Pangkasaysayan."

8 a.m.—5 p.m.

The one-day conference on public history is in congruence with this year's History Month celebration with an overall theme 'Kasaysayan: Tuklasin, Mahalin, Palaganapin.'

Recognizing public history as an emerging field in the discipline, the conference primarily aims to provide an avenue for sharing and updating of knowledge on public history and its importance. Meanwhile, the more specific objectives are the following: to conduct a preliminary assessment of the state of public history in the Philippines; to identify the significance of public history in raising historical awareness and consciousness; and to understand the role of the public history in nation-building and in the fight against negative historical revisionism and disinformation.

Aside from holding a one-day public history conference, other major events include the launch of the UP Department of History's website and a walking history tour (Lakad-Gunita). A forum on Martial Law will highlight this year's celebration of History Month (Buwan ng Kasaysayan 2018).

For inquiries, please email kas@kssp.upd.edu.ph.

10th International Conference on Teacher Education

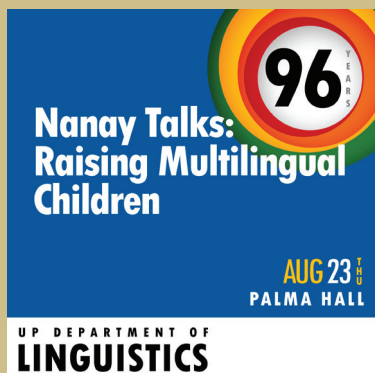

Seda Vertis North, Quezon City

The international conference is a biennial event organized by the UPD College of Education. The theme for this year is "Educational Equity through Inclusion."

This year's conference underscores the role of education as an agent for genuine social cohesion and equity which requires breaking barriers and narrowing gaps between and among learners, families, schools and other communities. It advances the view that inclusive education is all-embracing, and that it "is a comprehensive process of change across the education system through which the diverse needs of all learners are addressed and responded to, regardless of their social, economic, cultural, linguistic, physical, or other contexts" (UNESCO, 2013). The theme problematizes how inclusive education may be fostered through teacher education and professional development.

Curiosity, Adventure & Love National Heroes' Day feature

Videotheque, UPFI Film Center
August 30, 4 p.m.
August 31, 7 p.m.

The documentary film weaves together three threads: the life of a 104-year-old American orphan who journeys to the Philippines alone in 1933 at age 18; the history of the country that she has witnessed and made her home over the last century; and the insights and wisdom on life of a woman whose indomitable spirit has evoked inspiration and awe for the thousands who have known her.

Sitting alone in her 250-year-old Spanish colonial home, Jessie Lichauco's poetic soul draws comfort from the ebb and flow of the mighty river outside her window and protection from an ancient Banyan Tree while sharing stories of a life guided by fate, and where her innate sense of adventure, curiosity and compassion for others knows no boundaries.

Admission fee is P150. Tickets are available at the cinema entrance one hour before the screening. For more information, call UPFI Film Center at 981-8500 loc. 4286; 926-3640 and 9262722 (look for Sinag or Jack); or Facebook page <https://www.facebook.com/upfilmcenter>.
