17th Philippine-Spanish Friendship Day International Conference

NISMED Auditorium

The conference features papers on the past and present ties between the two countries. It is one of the major activities of the Philippine-Spanish Friendship Day celebration pursuant to Republic Act No. 9187 that was approved in Feb. 2003.

This year's theme, "The Pursuit of Colonial Order: Interrogating Crime, Law, and Justice in Spanish Philippines," aims to revisit Spanish laws and policies on crime and social order. This covers the entire stretch of the Spanish colonial era, by examining the manner in which the colonial state treated crime and acts against the government, the codification of rules and regulations on criminality, and the implementation and impact of colonial law and justice on Filipinos as well as on the colonial system as a whole.

Conference keynote speakers are Hon. Mario Victor F. Leonen, Associate Justice, Supreme Court of the Philippines, and Prof. Florentino Rodao, PhD, from the Universidad Complutense de Madrid.

The conference is free and open to the public. For details, please call 981-8500 loc. 2126.

11th Asian Network of Research Resource Centers (ANRRC) International Meeting (ANRRC 2019)

*SEARCA, UP Los Baños

The Museum of Natural History, in partnership with the UP Natural Science and Research Institute, is holding the ANRRC 2019.

ANRRC aims to promote cooperation and networking among Bioresource Centers (BRCs) in the Asia-Pacific Region. BRCs are repositories of plant, animal and microbial species as well as their tissues, cell lines and genetic information. The uses of BRCs cut across a wide range of fields, as scientific resources are made available to research agencies, educational institutions and the government.

This year's theme is "Bioresource Centers: Infrastructure for Biodiversity Conservation, Biotechnology and Biomedicine."

For more information, please email 11thanrrc2019secretariat@gmail.com.

2nd Communication Research International Conference (CRIC)

Film Center

The Department of Communication Research (DCR) of the UP College of Mass Communication is holding the 2nd CRIC.

CRIC 2019 provides a venue for students, faculty members and media professionals across the country to share and disseminate their studies in the field of communication and media. First organized by the DCR in 2016, CRIC is the geographic expansion of the National Communication Research Conference starting in 2012, and the Communication Research Student Conference in 2008.

This year's theme, "Crossroads and Off-roads in Online Worlds," explores how the expansion of online communities within and across borders helps mainstream or marginalize various ideas, issues and sectors. The conference examines how mediated and non-mediated human communication adopts, appropriates, or disrupts digital inclusions and exclusions. The conference involves plenary sessions with invited speakers and parallel sessions featuring competitive papers. Details are available at <https://www.facebook.com/upcmcCRIC/>.

CRIC 2019 is open to the public. The registration fee covers the book of abstracts, conference badge and certificate of participation.
