

Donations and Fundraising

UPDate was able to document 36 donation/fundraising drives.

Of the 36, UP Diliman (UPD) had seven donation/fundraising drives organized by academic units and 29 that were organized by student organizations, non-academic units and alumni groups. The seven academic units are the College of Arts and Letters (CAL), College of Mass Communication (CMC), College of Music (CMu), School of Labor and Industrial Relations (SOLAIR), Technology Management Center (TMC), College of Social Sciences and Philosophy (CSSP) and the School of Statistics (STAT).

These units belong to UPD's four academic clusters: Arts and Letters (CAL, CMC and CMu), Management and Economics (SOLAIR and TMC), Social Sciences and Law (CSSP), and Science and Technology (STAT).

Meanwhile, the 29 donation/fundraising drives comprised 12 student organizations, two non-academic units, three alumni groups, and 12 student organizations and non-academic units with co-organizers/partner organizations.

Below are Tables 1 and 2 which show the following donation/fundraising drives:

UPD USC's #Iskoops: COVID-19

IskoOps: COVID-19

IskoOps is an initiative of the University Student Council of UP Diliman that seeks to help sectors and stakeholders affected by adversity within and outside the university. Donation drives and relief operations are among its common ways to help affected communities.

Due to the COVID-19 pandemic, the national government has placed the entire Luzon on enhanced community quarantine. Without safety nets and provisions for those who are most affected, they are the most vulnerable in our current situation.

At a time when our government and institutions neglect the needs of the masses, it is important for the youth and community to take action and help those who are affected.
