CALL FOR PAPERS

The conference focuses on the most current advances in the study of Philippine languages, and on the application of linguistic theory to other disciplines in the Philippines. The conference also looks into contemporary comparative studies between Philippine languages and foreign languages.

With Philippine languages as working languages, topics may include but are not limited to:

THEORETICAL LINGUISTICS
- Phonetics and Phonology
- Morphology
- Syntax
- Diachronic Linguistics
- Dialectology
- Typology
- Semantics / Pragmatics

APPLIED LINGUISTICS AND OTHER DISCIPLINES
- Anthropology (Ethnolinguistics, Folklore, Ethnomusicology)
- Education (Language Teaching, Language Learning, Methodology, Sign Language, Bilingualism, Multilingualism)
- Engineering and Mathematics (Machine Translation, Speech Synthesis, Corpus Analysis, Computational Linguistics)
- Language and Society / Identity
- Law and Governance (Forensic Linguistics, Language Policy)
- Lexicography
- Literature, Arts and Communication (Discourse Analysis, Translation)
- Medical Science (Speech Pathology, Neurolinguistics)
- Psychology (Cognitive, Psycholinguistics)
- Philosophy of Language

Abstracts may be in English or Filipino. Along with the abstracts, please submit the filled out Participant Information Sheet downloadable from linguistics.upd.edu.ph to lingg@kssp.upd.edu.ph not later than 02 June 2014 (Monday).

ABSTRACT GUIDELINES:
1. Title (no more than 20 words) and name of proponent/s
2. Abstract (maximum of 500 words)
3. A separate page for references

IMPORTANT DATES
02 Jun 2014: Deadline for Submission of Abstracts
Aug 2014: Notification of Acceptance
Oct 2014: Deadline of Full Paper
26-28 Nov 2014: 12th PLC

For more details, please visit LINGUISTICS.UPD.EDU.PH